10:14 PM Caleb: You can think British Petroleum for that little burst of productivity today.
me: why's that?
Caleb: thank me: did you go to national feed?
Caleb: Baton Rouge wanted to do their own shows today.
10:15 PM me: I love oil spills
Caleb: And the Kentucky Derby preempted Tyler's 5 o'clock.
So I had a 75% less work today.
me: also, if this Obama affair thing pans out, I'm going to turn to terrorism 10:16 PM Caleb: _Enquirer_'s basically already given up on it.
That's supposed to be italicized.
Enquirer 's me: saw they walked it back 10:17 PM Caleb: Yeah.
There's no video.
Just anonymous testimony of the limo driver.
10:18 PM It is troubling that apparently this isn't the first time the rumors have circulated.
First time I've heard it, though.
Either way.
The man completely endeared himself to me again just now.
10:19 PM Look up his Michael Steele bit at the press corps dinner tonight when you get a chance.
me: will do
oh, also check out clips of this movie The Room 10:20 PM Caleb: Oh, I've seen 'em.
me: also
new ICP video Miracles
Caleb: I'll pass.
I live in Tyler.
10:21 PM I see enough cultural degradation.
But speaking of which.
me: no
you need to see this Caleb: My old co-worker at the News sent me a little Facebook message the other day.

me: hey
